Who Started This Labor War?

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The White House and not Labor is chiefly to blame for the dirty dog wallow we find ourselves in today on the industrial front. That can be proved.

Following V-J day the President could have said any one of the following: 1) "Until we get back to full production of civilian goods we must hold the line on both prices and wages;" or 2) "We will modify both;" or 3) "We will at once restore a free market in both."

He did none of these. Although wages and prices are geared together like two cog wheels, he released government controls on wages, but retained them on prices. (The only control on wages is where a wage increase would increase prices.)

You can't cut Siamese twins in two without making a dirty mess for somebody to clean up. From this primary blunder, everything else has flowed in unbroken sequence. We now have introduced in American industry the revolutionary idea that a man should not be paid on the basis of what he earns, but on the basis of how well off is the man who hires him.

Not only did Mr. Truman release wage controls, but he encouraged the demand for wage increases. He issued protests against strikes, but here are the strikes!

When he told labor that they could or must demand more pay, but that prices must not be raised, where then was labor to look for the increase? There was just one place—profits. And that leads on, like an avalanche down the mountain, to labor or political management of business.

It is a strange outcome. For organized labor, historically, has always opposed the principle of profit-sharing. Except in a few exceptionally lucky or well managed industries, or in those with a product in stable demand whether summer or winter, good times or bad, profit-sharing experiments have nearly all gone on the rock of human nature's reluctance to share losses. And labor ought not to be asked to share losses. That is the responsibility of ownership and management.

But now Mr. Truman has tossed compulsory profit-sharing into the witches' cauldron where it will seethe and stew for months with resultant name calling and bad blood all around. Meantime, for want of production, inflation marches on.

WILSON AND MOSCOW

High tide in the wave of propaganda to sell the American people the idea that Secretary Byrnes and President Truman are on the road to lasting peace was probably the remark that Woodrow Wilson's dream of world government "has come true."

This somewhat hysterical comment was inspired by the observances of Wilson's birthday, December 28. It has been repeated by various pro-Byrnes columnists and commentators more interested in trying to cover up the shortcomings of the United Nations program than in sticking to the truth.

In no sense whatever can the present Big Three lineup of nations, the UNO program, or anything now in prospect be said properly to conform with President Wilson's dream.

The plan violates the famous Fourteen points; it is quite different from the Treaty of Versailles; and it conforms to none of the specifications which Wilson laid down for permanent peace.

The addresses and messages of Woodrow Wilson are excellent reading for anyone interested in the subject of peace. The fact is that Wilson had as clear an idea of the essentials, and stated them as well, as any other writer; and his plan for a League of Nations failed solely because he didn't follow his own recipe.

Parents Shocked at Message Received Day After Letter Arrives from Their Son

One day after they received a letter from their son, in which he said he was in the Pacific area, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goheen received word of his death.

The deceased is Arthur Thomas Goheen, Gunner's Mate, 3/c, aged 29 years, son of Harry and Frances Goheen, of 232 Roosevelt street.

A letter written by the youth on December 27th was received by his parents on Saturday. Yesterday a telegram from Pearl Harbor, T. H., informed of his death on December 29th, but no details were given.

Goheen, a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve, had been in the service since June, 1943. He graduated from Bristol high school in 1943. He was a member of St. James' P. E. Church.

In the course of his duties he had made several trips on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. He was scheduled to leave Pearl Harbor for Tokyo on January 5th.

Survivors are his parents; two sisters, Mrs. Winfield Perkins, Miss Mildred Goheen, and a brother, Harry Goheen, Jr., all of Bristol.

The body will be forwarded here for burial, his parents advise.

DAN CUPID STAGES A "COME-BACK" IN COUNTY OF BUCKS

Divorces Are on Increase in This Section As They Are Throughout the Nation

FIGURES ARE CITED

189 Couples Started Divorce Proceedings in 1945; Marriages Increase

Divorces are on the increase in Bucks county as elsewhere in the nation, but busy little Dan Cupid is endeavoring to stage a comeback.

Exactly 189 couples started divorce proceedings in Bucks county in 1945, an increase of 24 over 1944's total of 155. The 1945 divorce business in Bucks established an all-time high for the county, and what's more—there will be plenty more divorces started within the first few months of 1946, if predictions mean anything.

On the floor above the Prothonotary's office in the Court House where the divorce proceedings are handled, there is located the office of the Clerk of Orphans' Court, right above the divorce office. According to Deputy Clerk of Orphans' Court Joseph B. Keating, of Bristol, his department is staging a comeback so far as marriage licenses are concerned.

During the month of December, 1945, licenses were granted to 124 couples, high for the year, which brought the total number of marriage licenses in 1945 to 885 couples, an increase of 43 marriage licenses over 1944.

In other words the marriage license business in Bucks county seems to be making up with new marriages all those that have gone on the rocks, plus many more.

There were 189 divorces started and 108 granted in 1945, which means that for every divorce started in the county, eight marriage licenses were issued.

In the marriage license bureau last year, 1945, was a busier year than any year since 1942 when 1479 were granted. The licenses granted

FIVE MEN, ARMED AND MASKED, HOLD UP 3 EMPLOYEES, FAIL TO SECURE LOOT, BUT MAKE A GET-AWAY; NELSON COWLES, DRIVER, AWAKENED FROM NAP, SHOT IN WRIST

Bristol Miss is Wed To Trentonian on Sunday

Four of Quintet Wear Masks, One Dressed in Army Uniform—Carry German Gun—Flee As Sound of Shot Rings Out—Intruders are Described as 19 and 20 Years of Age.

Five hold-up men, armed, walked into the Neibauey bus terminal here this morning and held up three of the company's employees, shot one and then made a get-away without getting any loot.

The man shot is Nelson Cowles, 43, of 8620 Midland avenue, Philadelphia, a bus driver. Cowles was wounded in the left wrist and is in the Harriman Hospital.

The five hold-up men walked into the bus terminal, entering through the rear door through which the buses enter the garage. In this part of the building were Joseph Tuliback, 22, of Elm avenue, Croydon, and Carey Winfrey, 26, of 268 McKinley street, Bristol, both employed as mechanics.

Tuliback and Winfrey were told to "face the wall." They say four of the five hold-up men wore masks, one was dressed as a soldier and the others wore civilian clothes. The group carried at least one gun.

Three of the men remained with Tuliback and Winfrey while one carrying a gun and one who was unarmed went to the first floor of the building. There they found Cowles lying on a couch, resting. Cowles is a bus driver and was resting between runs. In this room is the office safe containing the day's receipts. The bus drivers as they come in off their runs deposit their collections through the top of the safe.

Cowles was taken by surprise, and jumping up when the men entered, he yelled for help, being unaware that the other two employees were being held in the room adjoining. It was then that he was shot. The bullet struck Cowles in the right wrist just as he dropped his arm down in front of his stomach. This action probably prevented him from being fatally injured. Cowles was taken to Harriman Hospital where X-rays are to be taken today.

All five men ran from the garage, going through the rear immediately upon hearing the shot. They made their get-away. It was about 3:25 when the hold-up occurred. All five men are described as being between 19 and 20 years of age. One was wearing an army uniform with corporal stripes on the sleeves, according to bus company's employees.

Police Officers Murphy and Della answered the call and made a thorough search of the neighborhood but found no trace of the hold-up men.

Tuliback told police that some time previous to the hold-up he had looked out of the front window of the garage and saw a dark brown two-door Terraplane sedan parked on Monroe street, facing Farragut avenue and opposite the garage building. After the hold-up the car was gone.

Police have sent out a teletype broadcast.

COST OF STRIKES

Money loss because of strikes is known to be enormous, but no definite figures are yet available. In Detroit alone loss in wages, already estimated at more than $50,000,000, is mounting daily. That is not the whole story. Tradesmen report sales of food off more than half. Savings accounts are being depleted. War bonds are being cashed.

Strike of Ford workers at the Canadian plant in Windsor cost a pretty penny. The loss in wages, as announced in a survey made by the Board of Commerce of that city, was $14,000,000. This includes pay of those in the main plant and of workers in other factories who went out in sympathy. Retail business was all but paralyzed.

The Canadian strike was called off on the basis of renewed negotiations and arbitration of remaining differences. Strikes are ever wasteful to the point where thousands become impoverished and reduced to economic positions which will require months of labor and saving to restore solvency. Strikes are something which the nation cannot afford, and if those now in governmental authority are too cowardly to attack this problem, they must be replaced at the polls by men who will do so.

FEMININE SUCCESS STORY

The selection of a woman, Miss Dorothy Shaver, as president of Lord & Taylor, $32,000,000 New York store, is the first woman to head a department store of such size—is an impressive success story, even though it may be paralleled in various fields of commercial enterprise.

It serves as an indication of the almost unlimited opportunity available to women in most occupations in competition with men—certainly a progressive economic development from the time when men were considered naturally entitled to a monopoly of such opportunity and women in business were limited to special and lesser status. Prejudices and handicaps restricting women in economic enterprise gradually have been removed by women themselves, through their resourcefulness, adaptability and initiative.

The career of Miss Shaver, besides exemplifying these qualities, has certain picturesque aspects. Hers is a sizable and important job in a metropolitan setting. The record shows, moreover, that in addition to being a university graduate willing to learn to make herself useful at the start, she brought a great deal of imagination to her work, making her own new jobs as she went along. She became an expert at merchandising, advertising and the development of markets here and abroad.

Her interest in fashion and decorative art, stimulated and developed by travel and by observation, enabled her to introduce new ideas in this country which brought radical changes in established methods of department store promotion.

WILSON AND MOSCOW

Here was the Wilsonian concept, in his own words:

"Only a peace between equals can last; only a peace the very principle of which is equality and a common participation in a common benefit."

"No nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but . . . every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful."

"I am proposing government by the consent of the governed."

"A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained except by a partnership of democratic nations. No autocratic government could be trusted to keep faith within it or observe its covenants."

Among the important Fourteen Points were "open covenants openly arrived at," "equality of trade," "reduction of armaments," "impartial adjustment of colonial claims," "political and economic independence of the several Balkan states," and "mutual guarantees of political independence and territorial integrity to great and small states alike."

The discrepancies between present conditions and the yardstick furnished by Wilson are so obvious as to need little explanation.

The present peace is no "peace between equals." There is a "Big Three" and a "Big Five"—and the inequalities of, say Poland and Russia, or Greece and Britain, as voices in world affairs is the great tip-off of the injustice of the entire program.

Each of the major nations of the earth is frantically "seeking to extend its policy over any other nation or people" within its grasp. Quite contrary to the Wilson vision of a Federation or League of independent states, the world has divided into three major and many minor "spheres of influence."

Consent of the governed has no standing in the United Nations Organization; it was the forgotten principle at Moscow. So was the idea that "autocratic governments" cannot be safe partners in enterprises of peace. Russia is entirely outside the pale, from the Wilson point of view; and both the United States and Great Britain far too near the line of dictatorships to conform with Wilson's specifications for peace.

The mention of "open covenants" in connection with the tightly censored Moscow conference can produce only a smile—and an unhappy one, at that. There is no equality of trade when all small nations are reduced to the status of vassals. Armaments are on the increase, not being reduced.

As to the rest of the Wilson picture, the territories and possessions of the smaller nations of the earth are being used by the major powers as a sort of grab-bag. Not impartiality but greed is the keynote. Lines are being determined by land-grabbing, log-rolling and saber-shaking.

There are protests being heard; but not about injustice—the protests come largely from those who think they are not getting their full share of the spoils.

To say that all this is a fulfillment of the Wilson dream of peace is to say that the Wilson dream was a nightmare.

But it was no nightmare. Like many another man who spent his formative life in the abstractions of philosophy, and came only to high and practical grips with life itself after years in the aloof atmosphere of historical research, Wilson's thinking was clear enough—it was only in action that he failed.

The great tragedy of Woodrow Wilson's life was not that the world refused to accept his program of peace, but that the program which he finally presented was out of line with the program he had promised.

The tragedy was not that Senator Borah spoke to Wilson in the following words:

"Your treaty means injustice. It means slavery. It means war. And to all this you ask this Republic to become a party. You ask it to abandon the creed under which it has grown to power and accept the creed of autocracy, the creed of repression and force. . . . I cannot get my consent to exchange the doctrine of George Washington for the doctrine of Frederick the Great translated into mendacious phrases of peace."

The tragedy was that the Borah indictment was true. And word for word, Borah's philippic can be applied with equal force to the world program of Truman and Byrnes.

expenditure will be seen to have been paid for work on the streets, $4,120.20 having been used for that purpose. The lighting of the streets costs over $2,500 per year and the police received over $2,000. These three items of expenditure swallowed up over three-fourths of the money received by the borough from all sources.

The large schooner "Red Wing" passed up the Delaware on Sunday, to R. D. Wood's foundry for a load of pipe. The "Red Wing" has an iron hull, and it is said that there is only one other schooner hailing from Philadelphia similarly constructed.

Arrangements are being made by the Bristol Methodist for the enlargement of their Sunday School room by the addition of an annex in the shape of an L to the church building. The infant room is too small and the additional room is looked upon as an absolute necessity.

Electric lights are being placed in the second story of Washington hall.

The bridge over the canal at Washington street is being rapidly constructed.

The Philadelphia Methodist Conference, which has been in session at Pottsville, adjourned on Tuesday evening. The appointments for the year of ministers in this vicinity are as follows: Rev. S. W. A circular depicting the advantages that would accrue to Burlington if a railroad bridge were built from Bristol to that place was recently spread broadcast through that city and caused considerable comment there. The city of Burlington owns Burlington Island, and it is supposed by some that the Pennsylvania Railroad wants to buy it. . . .

The following named persons were chosen vestrymen of St. James' Episcopal Church last Monday: G. M. Dorrance, R. H. Morris, Thomas Hughes, Henry G. Booz, Dr. W. B. Baker, Dr. John Ward, Serrill Douglass, and John Golder.

Inside Your Congress

Let us review the record. A few days after victory, the President issued an Executive Order, August 18th: Cost of living and the general level of prices shall not rise. . . . Employers may by voluntary action make wage increases without government approval. . . . If the increase will not be used as a basis for a price increase. . . . The War Labor Board may henceforth disregard the Little Steel formula limiting wage increases to only 15% since January 1, 1941.

Then in that long winded message of October 20th, written by Roosevelt or Hannegan or someone with an eye on the 1946 elections, we find the following: Wage increases are imperative. . . . The idea that industry cannot afford wage increases without price increases cannot be accepted under any circumstances. . . . Industry as a whole can afford substantial wage increases without raising prices. . . . Business is in a very favorable position, etc.

So the French Front Populaire or the Attlee-Laski Labor Government comes to America! Industry managers, as I look at it, have been very dumb in permitting this battle to be pictured as a struggle only between Labor and Industry, whereas it is a contest between a politically Planned Economy and the American People, including American workers.

CHESTER—(INS)—Local police sat back in contentment when they put the "phantom burglar" in prison and chased the "flash" bandit across the Mason-Dixie Line. They were jaded from their police of mind, however, by the "latchkey" bandit currently terrorizing the area.

HIGH TEMPERATURE

Residents of the eastern section "sweated" in unusually high temperatures for this season of the year, when the thermometer registered 66 degrees yesterday afternoon. The range from eight yesterday morning to the same hour this morning was 58 to 66 degrees. The mercury remained in the sixties from 11 a. m. yesterday, throughout the afternoon and night, staying at 60 from three to eight a. m. In comparison January 6th and 7th of last year had temperature readings of 16 to 26 degrees.

ROHM & HAAS RALLIES TO BEAT BURLINGTON FIVE

Chemical Mixers Win Over Visitors by Score of 43 to 38

GAME WELL PLAYED

Cahall and Everitt Found the Range of the Nets in Third Period of Game

The Rohm and Haas team rallied in the third period to defeat the Burlington team, of the Burlington County League, yesterday afternoon on the club-house floor, Maple Beach. Final score was: Rohm and Haas, 43; Burlington, 38.

The Jersey team dominated the playing most of the first half and at the whistle held a 20-16 lead but in the third period both Ralph Cahall and "Augie" Everitt found the range of the nets and with the help of Joe Roe managed to score enough points to put the chemical mixers in the lead.

Once in the front, the Maple Beach aggregation held on to its lead and increased it as the game progressed. The Burlington lads, led by "Billy" Burr, of Villanova, put on a spirited finish and managed to shave six points off the Rohm and Haas lead but not enough to win the game.

Manager Anthony Castor announced last night that two Mercer County League games will be played Thursday night with Kaiser meeting Panelyte and Rohm and Haas playing Hightstown Rng. Next Sunday afternoon, the Rohm and Haas girls will play R.C.A. of Camden, and the Rohm and Haas boys will meet the Roebeling Post, No. 139, American Legion. The latter team is coached by Frank Linzenhold, of the Rohm and Haas team.

In the preliminary game yesterday afternoon, the Rohm and Haas lasses lost to the Majorettes, 49-35. The Majorettes are leaders in the Trenton Playground League.

Burlinghof and Benson led the local scorers with 16 and 11 points, respectively, while Byrne and Di-Louie led the Trenton team's attack with 37 points between them.

RAMBLERS OUT TO VACATE CELLAR IN YOUTH LEAGUE

Edgely A. C. Will Meet The Ramblers on Mutual Aid Floor

GAME STARTS AT 7.30

Celtics Will Oppose Fifth Ward in First Game To Be Played

BRISTOL YOUTH LEAGUE
Schedule for Tonight
CELTICS - 5TH WARD SPORTERS
EDGELY - RAMBLERS

Standing	won	lost	avg.
Franklin	5	0	1.000
Harriman	4	1	.800
Catholic B. C.	3	2	.600
Eagles	2	2	.500
Edgely	2	2	.500
Celtics	2	2	.500
Sporters	1	4	.200
Ramblers	0	5	.000

The Ramblers will begin their drive to vacate the cellar of the Bristol Youth League tonight when they meet the Edgely A. C. in the second scheduled game on the Mutual Aid floor. In the first tilt, the Celtics will meet the Fifth Ward Sporters. Opening tap-off is listed for 7.30 o'clock.

The Rams have lost five straight contests (four of these were taken by forfeitures), but still have hopes of getting in the playoffs, that is if they can begin a winning streak which will carry them among the leaders.

A revision of the standing has given the Ramblers five straight losses, but still the teams deadlocked for third place, Catholic Boys and the Eagles, have lost two games each and a short winning streak by the Ramblers may give them an opportunity of getting in the playoffs.

However, Freddie Hibbs' Edgely team is also making a fight to get in the playoffs and showed its strength last week when it took over the Harriman team. With Beny Samsel and Cutchinal in fine form, the Edgelyites will cause a lot of trouble in the loop before the playoffs begin, and it will not be surprising to see the township boys as one of the playoff quintets.

Vito Della's Celtics received a surprising set-back at the hands of the Catholic Boys' Club last Thursday night and should be on the rebound as they meet the Sporters tonight. A triumph for the Sporters will place them in a tie with the Celtics and if Edgely is beaten there will be a three-way tie for fifth place.

lions of tiers of ruffles. Skirts reached the floor, and sleeves were three-quarter length, with neckline sweet-heart style. The two young women wore head-bands of beaded blue velvet; silver slippers, and carried old-fashioned bouquets of mixed flowers.

The groom wore his navy uniform.

Seventy guests were entertained at a reception at the Schaffer home following the ceremony. The newlyweds have left by motor for Florida, they planning to spend a week at Miami. Travelling costume of the bride consisted of a light gray wool dress, gray coat and hat, brown alligator slippers and handbag, and she wore an orchid. The couple will reside in Swedesboro, N. J., the groom planning to resume his former position at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He was granted an honorable discharge from the navy last week.

The bride-groom is a graduate of Langhorne-Middletown high school, and the bride of Bensalem Township high school. Gifts of Mrs. Johnson to her attendants were compact; Mr. Johnson presenting the best man a wallet, and the usher with a cigarette lighter and tobacco pouch.

Deputy Prothonotary H. T. Myers Retires

far as the Prothonotary's Office is concerned, best describes the retiring deputy. There isn't an attorney who does business in the Prothonotary's office, nor anyone else, who has used its services, who would not agree immediately, that "Squire Myers" knows the answers" and has been efficiency and accuracy-plus.

But now, the well known Buckingham Republican stalwart, is going to play some more. Maybe he will take in a horse race or two, and increase his pinocle technique.

but so far as work is concerned, Squire's quit.

Myers was elected Prothonotary in November, 1909, and served in that office four years, after which he was made Deputy Prothonotary. He's been that ever since, with the exception of six years, during which time he was successfully engaged in the coal, lumber and feed business at Buckingham Valley, which he sold to the late Albert J. Thompson.

Myers holds a number of records, and of one of them he is especially proud for it puts him in the marathon class. It is that of being Republican committeeman in the middle Buckingham district since 1898, when he resided in Wrightstown township. When Squire was elected committeeman his district was about nip-and-tuck on the Republican-Democrat standing... now there are five Republicans to every Democrat in that district.

Squire defeated the late Edward Leigh, Bristol Democrat when he ran for Prothonotary in 1909, by a majority of over 1,000 votes. On the same ticket the late Judge William C. Ryan was a candidate for District Attorney.

Myers, who will be 75 his next birthday, said that when he was elected committeeman they held the elections in the "good old days" in Court House Park.

He has served as Deputy Prothonotary under Wilmer A. Twining, Wycombe; Robert Engart, Willow Grove; William Yardley (deceased); Lower Makefield township; John L. High, Dublin; Oscar Wiggins (deceased); Upper Makefield township; Ezra Miller, Newtown; and the retiring Prothonotary this year, Homer Wentz, of Milford township.

"And they have all been grand fellows, too, you can tell the world that," Myers said. "They must have been good because I never had any trouble with them, even since there were no two alike... all with different dispositions and ways, but good fellows."
